ZEMC redesignation application defeated by Town Council

By Nicole Smith

Application denied. Those were the words heard by representatives from the Zion Evangelical Missionary Church (ZEMC) last Wednesday evening when their request for redesignation of land was turned down.

Harry Penner and Willard Stauffer, both members of ZEMC, were requesting that Lots 18 and 19, Block 10, Plan 474 I (the parcel of land located directly north of the church) be redesignated from IS (Institutional) to R2 (General Residential) so that a multi-family unit could be built.

A public hearing was held last week concerning this application and approximately 25 residents turned out to voice their opposition to this application.

A petition was presented to Town Council with 47 signatures of neighbouring residents who were opposed to having multi-family housing in their area.

Many of the petitioners in attendance at the public hearing voiced their complaints, saying that a 4-plex would take away from the character homes in the area, that they didn't want the increase in traffic and that it would interfere with the historical nature of the area.

Council even received a letter from Australia, where residents Alan and Pearl Craig are temporarily visiting, stating more opposition to the application.

Stauffer, the chair of the ZEMC Board, addressed those in attendance last week, as well as council, saying:

"There is quite a bit of misunderstanding about what we propose to do. We never intended to do anything to that piece of property that wouldn't be an asset to our community. We are open to suggestions of what you would like to see there as a development."

Greg Jessop, one of the neighbouring residents, responded by saying, "The only issue I have is a multi-family development. Duplex, triplex, fourplex ... we are saying no."

Jessop said that he wouldn't object to having a single family dwelling on the parcel of land.

Once the public hearing was closed, council went on to hold their regular meeting.

On the agenda, council was asked to make a decision as to go ahead with second reading of the bylaw regarding this redesignation, or to defeat it.

Councillor Judy Kaupp made a motion to table the bylaw until the next council meeting. This motion was defeated.

Councillor Cheryl Dahl then moved to grant second reading to the bylaw, which was also defeated by council.

Now that the ZEMC application has been denied, the church cannot apply for redesignation on the same parcel of land for three months.

There is no word as to whether or not the church will be reapplying.

RACE FOR RICK

Hundreds of area residents gathered at the Memorial Complex on Sunday afternoon to take part in a walkathon to raise funds for cancer victim Rick Rudy. The A-Channel was on scene to talk to Rick and his wife Donna. See story on Page 3.

Brassard to remain as Chair of CESD school board

By Nicole Smith

The board of the Chinook's Edge School Division (CESD) had some easy and some tough decisions to make at their organizational meeting last Wednesday.

What seemed to be the easy decision for the board was re-electing Roy Brassard as chair for another year.

This motion was made by Trustee Doug Campbell, with no other nominations for the position.

The board voted unanimously for this motion.

What seemed to be a bit tougher of a decision for the board was who was going to be elected vice-chair.

Two names were thrown in the ring for the position: Trustee Joyce Langston and Trustee Jackie Swainson, last year's vice-chair.

Trustee Langston decided to run for the position because she wanted to be involved with the Discipline Committee.

"It was a tough decision to come to, but if you don't buy a lottery ticket you don't win," said Trustee Langston of her decision to nominate herself.

The board had to vote for the position and because of Trustee Stuart Little's absence, the results came back as a tie.

Another vote was held for the vice-chair position and again a tie was announced.

Now, the school board has two co-vice-chairs and both Trustees Langston and Swainson will fill the position over the next year.

The board had other votes to be made for various positions and the results are as follows:

The Alberta School Board Association representative will be Trustee Little.

The Board of Horizon School rep will be Trustee Langston.

The Public School Board Association rep is Trustee Langston.

Both Trustees Langston and Swainson are on the Celebrations Committee.

All trustees take part in the Education Committee.

On the Facilities and Maintenance Committee will be Trustees Little, Ron Fisher, Penny Archibald and Sandi Chalmers.

On the Finance Committee will be Trustees Chalmers, Fisher, Campbell and Chair Roy Brassard.

The Negotiations Committee is made up of Trustees Campbell and Swainson, with Trustee Chalmers as the alternate.

The Personnel Committee is made up of Chair Brassard and Trustees Little and Ian Taylor.

Trustees Taylor and Fisher are on the Policy Committee.

The Staff Consultation Committee is represented by Trustees Fisher and Taylor.

And finally, the Transportation Committee is made up of Trustees Chalmers, Langston and Taylor.

Amnesty for dog tags

... and other town council notes

By Nicole Smith

Animal amnesty

Dog licenses for the Town of Didsbury will be free of charge for the month of January.

At their regular meeting last Wednesday, council approved Bylaw 94-8, which deals with a dog license amnesty for one month a year.

The bylaw was proposed by Community Constable Greg Hnatiuk. He says that other municipalities use the system and that the idea is to get as many of the dogs in Didsbury licensed as possible so that tracking them is easier.

The Town admits that there will be a loss of revenue, but that the fines for those who don't get the licenses will offset it somewhat.

Council approved Bylaw 94-8 unanimously.

Proclamation

After receiving correspondence from the Alberta Mental Health Board, the Town of Didsbury has decided to proclaim the week of Oct. 2-8 as Mental Illness Awareness Week, even though the dates had already passed.

According to council, the request didn't come until after their last meeting. As the week was before their next meeting, administration took liberty and advertised the proclamation.

School support

Council received a request from the Didsbury Schools Band Society recently, that they support an application for Community Lottery Board funding.

The band is planning a trip to San Antonio, Texas this year to compete in a band competition there.

Council unanimously voted to grant the letter of support to the society.

X-treme sport support

Council also received correspondence from the Didsbury X-treme Sports Association who are also requesting a letter of support from the Town.

This group is also planning to apply for a Community Lottery Board Grant in the amount of $19,500.

This money will assist them in covering the costs of fencing, paving and installing props at the skateboard park which council previously endorsed.

Council will also be granting a letter of support to this association.

Rick Rudy headed for Houston, Texas next week

By Carla Victor

Rick Rudy is clearly a man with a lot to be grateful for - a loving family, friends and a community committed to see him through his battle with cancer.

More than 200 people attended a Didsbury walk-a-thon on Sunday, raising $29,473 to pay for an experimental cancer treatment, Rick's last hope to defeat the brain cancer which has now spread to both sides of his brain.

Surgery held in Calgary on Oct. 3 to relieve pressure on his brain caused by a golf-ball sized, Grade 3 tumour revealed another Grade 4 tumour on the left side of his brain which doctors say is inoperable.

Cancerous tumours are graded 1 through 4, 4 being the most severe as it grows quickly. Doctors would not operate on the second tumour because it would cause too much damage; he would not be able to function normally. Already, swelling from it has caused permanent damage.

"He is having a hard time comprehending, he is lethargic and not really there," said Donna Rudy, Rick's wife.

Although Rick remained in the hospital until last Thursday, Donna insisted on bringing him home.

"The doctors are telling us to do what we can to get him comfortable, but I'm not willing to. I've told Rick he has to fight. They are getting a man ready to die and I'm getting a man ready to fight one more round."

And fight they will. Rick is presently being prepped for his trip to Houston. He will leave Oct. 24 for an appointment Oct. 25.

"We are going no matter what. I don't care if I have to take out a second mortgage, we can't wait any longer," said Donna. Their 16-month-old daughter Alexandra will be travelling with them.

To pay for the treatment, $200,000 is needed.

More fundraising events like Elkton Valley Campground's benefit dance and silent auction, which raised around $5,000, are planned.

On Oct. 21 the Blue Yak is hosting Rick Rudy night which will feature many specials, 50/50 tickets, draws, raffles and a few auctioned items. As well, Roy Conley from the Canadian Sign Company promises to shave his head if more than $1,200 is raised. If more than $1,500 is raised he will shave his moustache too.

On Oct. 22 the Side Pocket will be hosting a pool tournament for anyone 18 years of age and older. Entry fee is $20. You can register by calling 556-3809.

On Nov. 4 at 7 p.m. the Hay City Saloon is hosting an auction. Donated items can be dropped off at the Hay City Saloon or by calling Janet at 556-1022.

On Nov. 18 a Bake and Craft Sale will be held at the Didsbury Arena. Contact Carol Edwards at 335-4118 for bake and craft donation information.

As well, money donations can be dropped off at any Alberta Treasury Branch.

As of last Friday, the Rudy account held $17,429, not including the Elkton Valley fundraiser and the money raised at the walk-a-thon.

"We have gotten so much response, it has been amazing," said a grateful Donna Rudy.

Wild Rose Alliance candidates make final push

Federal election likely Nov. 27

by Dan Singleton

After months of campaigning by candidates Ron Richardson, Alexander McLaren and incumbent MP Myron Thompson across west central Alberta, Canadian Alliance party members in the Wild Rose riding go to the polls on Saturday.

The winner of the nomination race will represent the party in the next federal election, now widely speculated to be held November 27.

The Wild Rose riding includes Olds, Sundre, Didsbury, Strathmore, Airdrie and Banff. The Alliance nomination vote is scheduled for Saturday in Crossfield.

Thompson won the party nomination in 1993 and by acclamation in 1997, going on to soundly defeat PC, Liberal and NDP challengers in federal elections those same years.

In an interview, Thompson said he is fairly confident he will win the Alliance nomination on Oct. 21 and will go on to be re-elected to Parliament.

"You just have to have confidence that things are going okay," said Thompson, suggesting his experience in Parliament make him uniquely qualified to represent the riding.

"You know what I've done and my accomplishments are, I think, quite good. I think people who pay attention recognize that I have accomplished many a thing that have had a major impact on some of the decisions that were made."

"I had a major role to play for three straight days developing our platform, and I'm ready to roll and give it another crack."

A farmer from the Eagle Hill area west of Olds, Richardson said in an interview that Wild Rose residents would benefit from a new Alliance representative.

"It's time for a change," said Richardson. "What I hear in the riding is people have been happy with Myron (Thompson), he's done a good job, but at the same time people say it's time for a change."

"I feel that I could fit in well. I have a good background in this riding. I listen well and I have a sense of the issues that are affecting people. I am compatible with the broad spectrum of people in the riding."

"There is a desire for people to have new faces in there and a new approach. I've heard that so many times, that it would be good to have some new blood."

While Richardson wouldn't predict a win on October 21, he did say, "I'm happy with what I've done. I didn't go out to slam Myron. My running in this was not a slight to him."

An Airdrie resident, McLaren said Saturday if he wins the nomination, he would focus his attention on areas other than law and order - one of the favourite topics of Thompson over the past seven years.

"My attention would be on a very different area," said McLaren.

"Rather than focusing on how we treat prisoners once they are in jail, perhaps we should address our efforts a decade before they even get there. Children's programs, domestic violence programs... It's 60 times more effective to spend the money when a child is in the six to 12 year age range than it is to throw them in jail when they are 18.

"Rather than focus on what their cell furniture looks like, perhaps we should focus on keeping them out of there in the first place. The scope of the problem is a little broader than what we are addressing."

Asked if he believes he will win on Oct. 21, McLaren replied he hopes to garner the undecided votes.

"There's a significant uncommitted vote," he said. "That's the ultimate goal."

Neither McLaren nor Richardson have held public office. Thompson was the Mayor of Sundre from 1977 to 1980.

A final Wild Rose Alliance candidates debate will be held in Olds on Oct. 20.

OPINIONS EDITORIAL

And the winner is ...

Nicole
SMITH

The race is on. After numerous debates, open houses and speeches, it's come down to the final days for the three Canadian Alliance candidates for the Wildrose constituency.

Each of the nominees has certain strengths that appeal to the numerous voters in the area, as well as certain weaknesses.

First off, there's MP Myron Thompson. He has been involved with federal politics for a number of years and has accomplished much for the country and well for his constituency. His sharp tongue and booming voice have made him a dream come true for the media and his followers but a nightmare for his opposition. Thompson has never been afraid to speak his mind and thus, has spearheaded many changes in our federal government system.

But, Thompson has had some bad press as of late, with a couple of letters being published in local papers about him being in poor health. Thompson says that it's not a concern, but there is part of the population who believes it's time for a younger candidate to have a shot at the position.

Alongside Thompson, we see Olds-native Ron Richardson. A mild-mannered, soft-spoken farmer, Richardson is trying to appeal to salt-of-the-earth electorate in the area. A quoter of Canadian Alliance policy, he has changes in mind for the constituency and for the country.

Though his quiet ways and middle-of-the-road attitude may not be encouraging to some, Richardson has seen a lot of support coming from the Olds and Didsbury areas of the Wildrose Constituency.

Finally, there is Alexander McLaren of Airdrie. The youngest of the three nominees, McLaren is looking to revamp the system in Wildrose. A chartered accountant in Calgary, McLaren is interested in the finances of the country and how to make improvements for the Canadian taxpayers.

Many think his young, fresh attitude will be beneficial to the area, whereas some think it may be detrimental. Either way, his smooth talking and big ideas have gotten the constituents of Wildrose to stand up and take notice.

Who knows what will happen on Saturday in Crossfield when the Nomination Meeting is held. My money would have to be on Thompson, just because of his experience in federal politics and the changes he has made thus far, but that's not saying that a little change wouldn't do our constituency good.

I encourage the people of Wildrose to make the drive to Crossfield on Saturday afternoon to cast their ballot for the CA nominations. It's better to take part in the election, than to sit on the sidelines and criticize the choice made.

Did you know?

As winter is fast approaching, just a reminder to everyone that By-law 96-01 states that snow and ice must be removed from a sidewalk within 24 hours of a snowfall.

This is for the protection of the pedestrians who use the sidewalks.

Failure to remove the snow and ice within the 24 hour period could result in the Town of Didsbury removing the snow and ice with all costs of removal plus a $25 fine going to the owner.

This applies to both residential and business owners.

Corrections Canada announces new five-star facility

By Myron Thompson

I responded with anger to Corrections Canada's announcement that it is building a new recreational facility for inmates at Drumheller penitentiary.

Prison officials announced yesterday that a $1.2-million recreation center, complete with hobby shop and weight room would be completed in two months.

Corrections Canada's reason for this new facility is that inmates are becoming bored and running away. Once again, Corrections Canada's knee-jerk liberal management style continues to cater to the whims of the inmates, instead of increasing security and ensuring that prison provides the necessary deterrents to further crime.

Drumheller currently has a greenhouse, baseball diamond, outdoor rink, library and computer labs. Now that the inmates can pump iron and build birdhouses, Drumheller would rank as a five-star institution that no one would want to leave.

Given the outrageous affair regarding Karl Homolka, Corrections Canada is fueling public outrage with this decision. Despite Canadians' disgust over Homolka's party-life existence in prison, the Liberal government continues to demonstrate an unpalatable insensitivity to victims of crime. Solicitor General Lawrence MacAulay must understand the Canadians want inmates to be treated like the criminals they are and not like schoolchildren in need of diversion.

Ponderings of the heart

A New Beginning

By Margaret Fradley

Recently we all heard on the news of a desperate young mother who abandoned her child in a supermarket, with careful instructions of how to care for her young child. He appeared having been well cared for, clean, and of having been loved.

These days many people are under a great deal of stress, not knowing which way to turn; there doesn't seem to be a "way out."

This particular mother had carefully laid out her plans for her child, whom I am sure she loved, to be cared for; she saw no other way.

There are those who are carrying burdens heavier than they feel they can carry, they become disillusioned and discouraged, and come to the end of themselves.

There is an opportunity, a challenge, open to all of us to be sensitive to one another; to really listen to others; to talk with them and to be willing to reach out in any seemingly small way to help lift another; to bring renewed hope into their lives; and to help them to seek out the "one" who will never give us more than we can bear, and who has promised He will never leave us or forsake us.

From time to time we all need each other, when we cry out for help - sometimes audibly, sometimes with a deep inner cry. We need another to walk the way with us until once again we can get our feet on firmer ground, and can see our way clear to carry on.

We are all part of the whole.

Hog operations not good for clean air, water and land

Dear Editor,

There are enough Albertans wanting to build hog operations in this province to put stress on our clean air, water and land! We most definitely do not need large foreign companies like Taiwan Sugar Corp. coming to our province. This company's proposed hog operation is of such a size, that it is hard to imagine what it would be like, with 80,000 stinking hogs pouring out the same amount of waste as a city with a population of 240,000 people. This operation has no sewage treatment!

This company's plans were foiled by the hard work of area residents in Foremost, now they seem to think that it will be accepted in the Hardisty area. This company has said that it will not build in an area that they are not welcome. It took a showing of about 75% of the residents being opposed and being turned down by both the Municipal Planning Commission and the Development Appeal Board to get it across to them in Foremost.

The Development Officer in Hardisty has approved Taiwan Sugar Corp.'s proposal. There are at least 1,700 area residents who signed saying that they do not want this operation under any condition. This operation will require 43 million gallons of water annually. This water will come from an area where water levels in wells have been dropping over the last few years as well as lakes and sloughs have been drying up. There will also be 40 quarter sections of land that will be sterilized to any future development that surround the 5 quarters that will be owned by Taiwan Sugar Corp. A lot of this land has been in the family for 5 generations. The permit has been appealed with a date set for later this month.

If you want to support these people in their fight for clean air, water and land, call your MLA and tell them we do not need this operation in our province. We would also like to see a cross-country boycott of all Taiwanese products until the government-owned Taiwan Sugar Corp. withdraws its proposal and leaves our country.

Sincerely,
Susan Pearson,
Red Deer

County listening?

Dear Editor:

Is the Mountain View County Council listening to the ratepayers? Does Council care about our lives or is the almighty dollar going to win again?

On Wednesday, October 18, the Municipal Planning Commission will address a request from residents near the junction of the infamous quarter at Highways 22 and 27 east of Sundre for an Area Structure Plan.

Now that the quarter has been redesignated, concerns are mounting about the lack of will or the inability of the county to properly address matters that will protect the environment, the people living nearby this quarter and complete county interests. On October 4th the Planning Commission (the same people who make up County Council) thought one hour was enough time to revise the fifth draft of Direct Control rules which will be the controlling guide for this quarter and a model for future industrial/commercial quarters identified in the Stantec Report. One hour to discuss noise, air, water, traffic pollution, types of businesses and all the regulations in a nine-page document. Not surprisingly, discussion was extended. Like it or not, we, the residents, fear the Direct Control rules will be pushed through without adequate attention.

Because the ratepayers do not believe County Council is addressing their real concerns, they have asked for an Area Structure Plan to see how infrastructure, further development, subdivision and related issues impact the total area encompassing the two hamlets of Westward Ho and Harmattan, the Little Red Deer River and the Westward Ho Campground.

Can we expect that a Council - which appears not to be willing to give reasonable attention to the Direct Control rules that are to regulate industrial development - will be willing to listen to expectations of the people and give us an Area Structure Plan? We have strong fears that this council does not care enough. Our hope is that on the evening of October 18th, we will begin open discussion with the county for an Area Structure Plan. Our fear is that the vote of the Municipal Planning Commission will be a repeat of the redesignation vote of August 16th (Remember - same people).

Sincerely,
Geraldine Wiper,
Olds, AB

Federal election: why now?

Dear Editor,

Why, oh why have a Federal General Election now?

Street corners, lawns and road sides in many provinces are already festooned with the signs that accompany municipal elections. "Elect me as...mayor, alderman, councillor, school board trustee, hydro-commissioner, reeve."

What is the compelling reason for adding more? Is there an economic crisis? A threat to Confederation? A major decision to be made for which a mandate is needed? No, no and no! No reason affecting public interest.

For most Canadians the challenges and counter challenges hurled across the floor of the House of Commons have the flavour of school boys working themselves up for an after 4:00 fight.

"Fight! Fight!" always draws a crowd of kids.

An election call now, though, will have the opposite effect.

With nothing of consequence, those choosing to opt out of what they view as an almost burlesque activity will increase.

A high price to pay for an election unneeded and unwanted, except by those talking themselves into it.

Yours truly,
Joe Hueglin

Jackson Women's Institute news

By Noreen Olson

Twelve members and one guest attended the September meeting at Noreen Olson's. Because she hates to see summer end, our hostess chose "In the Good Old Summer Time" as the opening song. Roll Call was "A new product you like or dislike," and we had lots of examples that included good ones like soft nylon scrubbers, herbal teas, new plant varieties, moisturizers, hot iron cleaner, Steam and Seam (for quilters), cold inhibitors, strawberry glaze, asparagus pickles, and a snap-on mop. There were also some bad ones: sprays that don't spray, warranties that are not followed and even a question of "How can they push 'Corn Flakes' as a new product when it's been around forever?"

Marie Olson reported on the Farm Safety Wrap-up, and read a letter from the committee thanking W.I. for all their assistance. Lita Reid reported on the summer tour to the George Kemp House and Historical Village in Innisfail. A letter from AWI President Maxean Brigley was read by Marie Scott. We have a new address for our Provincial Office. It is now in Wetaskiwin and the Grand Opening is October 27th. Nellie Davies has been knitting slippers for the Children's Hospital and she received a letter thanking her for the much-appreciated gift. She brought another bag of warm and colorful slippers and these will be delivered in the next few days. We received acknowledgment and a copy of the entry that we submitted to the Book of Remembrance in honor of Catherine Reid. Noreen read a copy of the evaluation that she had sent to LINKS. Marie Scott is part of the Grandparenting Program in the Cochrane School System and she asks that we think about joining such a program in our local schools. We expressed the hope that the Health Unit Program in Cremona will continue to have a Doctor on a regular basis and it was suggested that those who valued the service might write the Unit Headquarters in Three Hills. We all wished to express our condolences to Martha Felker in the death of her husband Walter. M.J. Davies gave us a Const. Convenor Report. Exec. meeting will be Oct. 12 and she reminded us that Jackson is host group for the Spring Constituency Conference.

Judy Bellamy is Convenor for Education and Cultural Affairs, and her guest speaker was Donna Maynes of Cremona, who is CEO for Rancho Topaz Language Services. Donna works between schools in Mexico and Medicine Hat College. She coordinates the whole "foreign studies" experience for many youngsters looking for an opportunity to study English in a non-threatening environment. Medicine Hat College is a safe and not too large place where youngsters from a protected family background can gain experience without being too overwhelmed. The whole program is paid for by the student's family. Donna meets them at Customs, shepherds them to their destination, keeps in touch with the family, checks on the kids progress, acts as guardian, aunt, conscience, comforts them when they are homesick and encourages them when they are worried. A very interesting presentation.

Next meeting is at Ev Robertson's on October 25. If you feel a need to connect with your community call any WI member.

Guests are welcome.

Common Ground: Where can you go for support?

by Janet Barbeau

I need to tell someone. But who can I call? I don't think I'm ready to leave...I'm so confused. I really do love him and can't understand why he treats me so badly. Is it my fault? This is such a small town, there's no one that can help me out here, is there?

Many women who are experiencing abuse within their relationship feel very alone and trapped. Embarrassment and shame may stop them from sharing with others - even close friends and relatives - the violence which is going on behind closed doors. One of the biggest obstacles helping professionals face in providing services to families experiencing domestic violence is overcoming this isolation.

In an attempt to address this issue the Wheatland Communities Crisis Society offers an Outreach Program. The goal of the program is to provide information, support, referrals and advocacy to families whose lives have been affected by family violence, but currently reside within their own home. Addressing the needs of families living within the Hearthstone region is our top priority. The hope is that by providing services to families in need earlier many crisis may be avoided later on.

Follow-up care will also be provided to women when they leave the shelter. Women often require some assistance in confronting the numerous challenges in establishing a new home independent of their partner. An important role of the outreach worker may be to advocate on the client's behalf to ensure access to appropriate services which may include legal guidance, financial assistance and/or housing. For those women who choose to return to their partner, emotional support, safety planning and ongoing risk assessment can be provided.

For more information about the Outreach Program and the services it offers please contact Janet at the Wheatland Communities Crisis Society at 934-6634 or toll free at 1-877-934-6634.

National Seniors' Safety Week happening soon.

Safety and the Aging Driver in Canada

One-quarter of Canada's population is now over 50. Half of Canadians 65 and older living in a private household drive a motor vehicle. Drivers over 80 are the fastest-growing segment of the driving population.

What are the implications of Canada's changing driver demographics?

"Being able to drive means independence," says Emile Therien, president of the Canada Safety Council. "If you've driven for most of your life, you'll want to keep driving as long as possible." He says mature drivers tend to be safety conscious. "Many compensate for their limitations by driving shorter distances and avoiding night driving, busy highways and downtown areas."

Most drivers over 65 use their car only a few times a week, mostly short trips for shopping, appointments or social get-togethers. However, at the onset of winter, some drive long distances to warmer climates.

Over the years, road fatalities have dropped significantly in all age groups except 65 and over. Based on kilometres driven, older drivers have more collisions than any other age group.

Can seniors be safe drivers? Definitely yes, says Therien, if they recognize age-related changes and compensate for them.

Age-related changes include: reduced vision, particularly at night; a decrease in depth perception; and movement-limiting disabilities such as arthritis and rheumatism which slow down response. Medications enable Canadians to enjoy longer and better lives, but can also affect driving ability.

The main factor in collisions involving older drivers are slow response, not seeing a pedestrian (car, sign, etc.) and interaction with other drivers, such as right-of-way violations.

The Canada Safety Council offers a few tips to help older drivers stay safe behind the wheel:

Vision, Hearing and Medication

- Have regular vision and hearing examinations.

- When traveling, always wear your eyeglasses or hearing aid.

- Give yourself time to adjust to new eyeglasses and have your glasses checked periodically.

- Use medications correctly, know how it could affect your driving and ensure you are free from harmful effects before driving. With some medicines, you may not be able to drive at all.

- Always wear your seatbelt.

- Keep your eyes moving and watch the entire traffic environment.

- Look for vehicles entering the road from curbs, driveways and businesses.

- Be alert for parked cars, pedestrians and cyclists.

- Use rearview and outside mirrors often.

- Check to the side several times before turning or merging.

- Never assume you can take the right of way, even if you know it should be yours.

- When unsure whether you should pass or change lanes, stay in your lane.

- Maintain a minimum three-second following distance. Start your count when the car ahead passes a fixed road mark.

- When driving in the rain or in winter, reduce speed and increase following distance.

- Maintain space cushions to the sides and behind your car.

- Plan all your trips, choosing familiar routes and avoiding dense and/or high speed traffic.

- Avoid driving at dusk or dawn, when visibility is difficult.

- Avoid prolonged hours of driving.

- Keep windshields and rear windows clean inside and out.

- Avoid looking at the headlights of oncoming vehicles.

- Concentrate on your driving and prepare for the unexpected.

- Do no drive if you are emotionally upset.

- Minimize background noise. Keep radio volume, air conditioning and heater blowing units on lowest setting.

- Never drive after consuming alcohol.

- Take a driver improvement course such as the Canada Safety Council's 55 Alive.

Sons of Norway news: A new season begins

By Noreen Olson

There was good attendance for our first meeting of the new season. It was held on September 25th with President Leif Terning presiding. Reports were given on activities held over the summer. We had a very nice trip to The Lafthaus in Red Deer where members of the Lafthaus Society toured us through their facility. The Lafthaus is an almost authentic 17th Century Norwegian Farmhouse where grass grows on the roof, beautiful carvings adorn the woodwork and examples of heritage needlework and painting decorate the interior. We had a picnic in the courtyard then toured the Red Deer museum, and had coffee on the way home. Due to bad weather we did not have our usual picnic at Rosebud, but in late summer, we got together of Olson's for Mel Haakonson's 80th birthday party. Leif Terning and Barb Olsen were delegates to District IV Convention held in Great Falls and gave reports from that event and Lief Terning was a Delegate to International Convention held in Stavanger and gave us a report from Norway.

Correspondence included a letter from Ski for Light and we will support them with our usual membership donation. We received a letter from the Foundation in Canada acknowledging our donations to the memory of Jack Howden and Dave Forseman. We were sorry to have a letter of resignation from Betty Casebeer. Due to ill health Betty feels she can no longer handle secretarial duties. She will be hard to replace. Letters from Esther Hansen and John Johnson thanking us for our support in difficult times, Olds Auxiliary Hospital requesting funding, there are Scholarship applications, Prairie Costume Society, Highlites and Resource Magazines.

Directors' reports were from Olga Terning on Hardanger, Rosemaling, Chip Carving and Knitting classes; Ruby Brunski in regard to Spring Fling and videos for this evening. Counselor, Sunshine and V.P. also reported and Sports Director says he has booked Spare Time Bowl For March 18 and plans a Family Ski event for February.

Calgary Lodge invites us to attend their Sports day October 28 at the Winter Club. Talk to Leif about tickets.

Under new business we voted to send donations to the Foundation in memory of Svend Hansen and Bob Hunter. We will, as usual, buy a wreath for the Legion's November 11 Service.

Under Good of The Order Inga Fobes has given a book to the Library title, Folkets Bilder. It is in the style of a Photo Album covering 100 years of Norwegian History. Mel Haakonson donated the albums that he and Mil made of the early days of our Lodge. We all agreed that none of us have aged at all. Leif showed us the Gold Certificates that our Lodge and President earned in 1998 and 1999. Certificates are awarded on a point system and all the members can be proud of their Lodge and the work that they do for it, but we especially must acknowledge the great work done by Treasurer Thordis Kamp and Secretary Louise Kobberstad.

Cremona Lions: October Update

by Charlie Bird and Ken Naidoo

As stated in a previous news release, our Annual Lions' Auction takes place on Saturday, October 21, 2000. The Auction is believed to have started in 1978, and therefore is in existence for well over 20 years. Without a doubt, our major fall fundraiser improves every year. For a start, the quality of the donations gets better every year. Gone are the days when many of the donated items were committed to the local dump. Also, each year, more and more corporate and business concerns are becoming interested in this event, making sizeable donations.

Much of the credit for the sudden surge in interest goes to our Lions canvassers, who have trod many a weary mile in the surrounding centres, and, of course, Cremona, in search of donations. In charge of the drive this year is Lion Palmer Schuetzle. Our Palmer does not seem to know the meaning of the terms 'weariness' or 'give up.' Though not his 'regular' job with the Lions this year, Palmer has taken up the challenge to surpass last year's record. And with his leadership and persistence, assisted by fellow Lions, there is little doubt that we will do well again.

Feedback from our community showed that they wanted an earlier start. So the Auction this year begins at 6:00 p.m. Further, to take care of the hungry buyers, the local 4H club is catering at this event with a 'Hot beef on a bun,' starting at 5:00 p.m. Community preview of the Auction starts at this time also.

Please remember: donations are being accepted from Noon to 6:00 p.m. on the day of the sale.

Reminder: Our first supper meeting this year is on Monday, October 23, 2000 at 6:30 p.m. Lion Dennis Stevenson from the Calgary North Club will be present to speak to our club.

Ladies Night: This will be held on November 25, 2000. Catering will be by Cremona Country Catering under the guidance of Marianne Smith and her family of helpers. Other aspects of the night are presently being planned. Please contact any Cremona Lions member for tickets.

WAY OF LIFE RELIGION

Focus on the Family

By Rev. John Orman,
St. Cyprian's Anglican
Church, Didsbury

"Being a good neighbor is one of the basis of all societies. How it is defined certainly varies, but in a significant area of Mountain View County, Didsbury & District Home Help Association is ready and waiting to take calls from those that need a variety of assistance. It is a way of following Jesus' Command to Love ones neighbor as ones self. (Mark 12:31) All you need to do if you think that this volunteer agency can help is phone a local number 507-9063 and leave a message. A volunteer will soon get back to you.

On November 1st there will also be office space in use from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 Noon, Monday to Friday at the back of the Realty World office at 1912 - 20th Street (Main Street) in Didsbury where volunteers will be available to help people find the help they need. Also watch for the Association's new 335-phone number which will soon be available.

How can these volunteers help you? What is their role? Their role is to try and direct you to the people or agencies that can provide the services that are needed. Sometimes you have to pay for the service and sometimes a volunteer is available. Here are some examples of the types of requests that volunteers might direct to those who can help: help with lawn and garden maintenance or snow removal. Suggestions might include a local neighbor, a professional firm, or perhaps a youth group hoping to earn a few dollars. Similarly, with cleaning inside the house. Other requests might include people without transportation needing rides to medical appointments. Here we encourage the use of the Lions Handy Bus for local rides and a number of volunteer drivers for rides to Calgary. Most volunteers expect and need some compensation, which is only fair. If paying for a service is a difficulty then sometimes a person needs to contact Social Services first. What about groceries if someone is housebound by reason of illness or infirmity or because of the aging process? Then there are local community groups as well as volunteers that will do shopping.

The aim of the Association is to bring together two groups of people, those who need services and those who can provide them on either a volunteer or paid basis. Anyone can access local businesses by using the yellow pages, but sometimes that is not the answer, and there is a volunteer willing and able to help, perhaps to arrange someone that can visit and offer companionship or to share a coffee with someone who is shut in.

Why such an agency? Well, after years of Government cutbacks, community self-help groups came of age. In addition, with a slowly aging population and many younger people having struggles because of partners away working or because of lack of local family support, there are many needs to fill. Robert Schuller at the Crystal Cathedral in California has a saying, "Find a need and meet it, find a hurt and heal it." That is all part of the purpose.

New board members are always welcome, of any faith group, or of none, but of the initial board members have belonged to the local United and Anglican churches and been inspired by Matthew 25:42-45, amongst other verses in the bible indicating ways of loving one's neighbor at practical levels. So if you have a need or hear of a need, then why not phone or visit the new office after November 1st?

QUESTION: I assume you favor a highly structured curriculum that emphasizes the memorization of specific facts, which I consider to be a very low level of learning. We need to teach concepts to our kids and help them learn how to think — not just fill their heads with a bunch of details.

DR. DOBSON: I agree that we want to teach concepts to students, but that does not occur in a vacuum. For example, we would like them to understand the concept of the solar system and how the planets are positioned in rotation around the sun.

How is that done? One way is for them to learn the distances between the heavenly bodies, i.e., the sun is 93 million miles from Earth, but the moon is only about 240,000 miles.

The concept of relative positions is then understood from the factual information. What I'm saying is that an understanding of the right factual information can and should lead to conceptual learning.

QUESTION: Our children are all on their own now and my husband and I are free to do some of the traveling we have always planned to do when we got them through college. But lately I feel too tired even to keep the house clean, and too depressed to care about planning or doing anything extra.

I'm only 46, yet some days I can hardly get out of bed in the morning. I just want to put my head under the pillow and cry — for no reason at all. So why do I feel so terrible? My husband is trying to be patient, but this morning he growled, "You have everything a woman could want ... what do you have to be blue about?" Do you think I could be losing my mind?

DR. DOBSON: I doubt if there is anything wrong with your mind.

The symptoms you describe sound as if you may be entering menopause, and if so, your discomfort may be caused by the hormonal imbalance that accompanies glandular upheaval. I suggest that you make an appointment to see a gynecologist or other physician in the next few days. He or she can help you.

QUESTION: I've talked and talked to my husband about how I'm different from him and how I need him to be sensitive to my needs. Somehow, he just doesn't "hear" it. I've also gotten mad at him about a hundred times. How can I get my feelings across to him?

DR. DOBSON: One very effective way to express your feelings is to paint a word picture. My good friends Gary Smalley and Dr. John Trent described this technique in their book, "The Language of Love."

In it, Gary told a story about his wife, who was very frustrated with him. Gary would come home from work and clam up. He had nothing to say all evening.

Finally, Norma told him a story about a man who went to breakfast with some friends. He ate a big meal and then gathered up some crumbs and put them in a bag. He went to lunch with some business associates and ate a big steak.

Again, he put a few crumbs in a doggie bag to take with him. When he came home that night, he handed his wife the little bag of leftovers.

"That's what you are doing to me," said Norma. "All day the children and I wait to talk with you when you get home. But you don't share yourself with us. After being gone all day, you hand us a doggie bag and turn on the television set."

Gary said hearing that story was like being hit with a 2-by-4. He apologized and began to work on opening himself to his wife and his family.

Try creating a graphic word picture to communicate your needs to your husband. It is far more effective at getting masculine attention than a torrent of hostile comments.

Rev. John Orman

Tired of Turkey?

You won't want to miss out on the annual Roast Beef Supper hosted by St. Cyprian's Anglican Church on Saturday, October 21. According to Reverend John Orman, "it tends to be more of a community event." There are two suppers scheduled, one sitting beginning at 5 p.m. and the second one beginning at 6:30 p.m. "We've had roast beef for years and years," says Rev. Orman, "and people enjoy coming out." The roast beef is cooked and sliced at AG Foods, "and they do a wonderful job. Vegetables are donated, and so are the pies." Tickets are very reasonably priced at $10. for adults, $5. for Children 6-12, and free for children under 5 years of age, and are available downtown at Aurora Travel (335-8880) or at the Church office 335-4664. "We will serve about 80-120 suppers at the church," says Rev. Orman, "and sometimes we take suppers to those who are in their homes." The net proceeds from the supper goes to Didsbury's Anglican Church for local projects, and some will be sent for outreach programs through the Anglican Church of Canada, the amount varying from year to year. "It's just another opportunity for good fellowship, food and fun," says Rev. Orman with a smile. "People get together and enjoy being in a social setting." Plan to head over to the Anglican Church on the 21st for some great Alberta beef, and a visit with friends and family.

Halloween Howler

Hey kids! Wonder what you're going to do this Halloween? Well, wonder no more because the Didsbury Child/Youth Club is hosting a Halloween Howler Dance on Thursday, October 26, at the Multi Purpose Room of the Didsbury Memorial Complex. As Dance Coordinator Nicole Smith says, "we're encouraging kids to dress up... older people dress up too," she says with a giggle, "like me." The dance is geared for Westglen Middle School students only, Grades 5 to 8. The cost is just $2. for those wearing costumes, and $4. for those without. Doors open at 7:30 p.m. and the dance runs till 11 p.m., with great music provided by area DJ, Razzmatazz. "We've asked them to play good music," Nicole says with a smile, "music the kids will enjoy." Recently amalgamated from the Didsbury Youth Club and Kidding Around Parents Club, the Didsbury Child/Youth Club is a non-profit organization trying to promote fun, educational, recreational activities for children and young adults and their families in Didsbury. "We're hoping to put on dances once a month, depending on the interest of the kids," says Nicole. "Maybe a Beach Party dance in November and a semi-formal Christmas dance in December." The Halloween Howler is going to be great fun, with "tons of prizes, contests, games and stuff," says Nicole. "We're trying to give the kids a fun, safe thing to do with their time." Parents are welcome to stop by, and as Nicole says, "we looking for parent support to volunteer a couple of hours to chaperone the dance. It would be so appreciated," she emphasizes. Nicole got involved with the Didsbury Child/Youth Club because she was looking for something to get involved in. "I really enjoy the kids in the community," she says, "and this was perfect." Nicole's looking forward to getting dressed up herself, and seeing the kids come out to the dance in their costumes too. There should be lots of witches, vampires, goblins, and ghosts at this year's Halloween Howler. "We're inviting all the kids to come," says Nicole. "It's going to be an awesome time hanging out with your friends, dancing, and dressing up." So Westglen students, head on over to the Complex for a 'howling' good time!

Farewell Pastor Dave

At one time or another in our lives, we all look for an opportunity to set what we're doing aside and try something new; go out in the world and seek our fortunes, so to speak. That's what David Black, Youth Pastor at the Zion Evangelical Missionary Church has in mind when he and his family move back to St. Mary's, Ontario at the end of November. "We want to take some time for our family, renew our family ties, and enjoy some time for us," he says. Pastor Dave has spent the last four years initiating youth programs in the community, and caring for the needs of many of our young people as they build their lives and search for direction. "We will really miss the kids here," he says with a bit of sadness in his voice. "It's been so wonderful here, with the senior pastor and the associate pastor. From the first day we moved here, we felt we had lived here our whole lives," he says, adding, "we will really miss the contacts we have in the community and outside the community. We've been very privileged to know so many wonderful people." Dave and his wife Sally have three little girls and they're looking forward to having their family back home get to know them and watch them grow up. He'll miss out on some exciting activities with the church though, as it is in the process of expanding, with a new building to be started just east of town early in the spring. But it's the kids he'll miss most. "It's been very wonderful working with the youth ... they're idealistic, optimistic, and love life," he says. The Church will begin the procedure of looking for someone, but will continue with parent and volunteer support for the interim. Write often, Pastor Dave!

Terry Luft

Hey Kids ... Come Shoot Some Hoops!

Dreaming of becoming the next Larry Bird or Michael Jordan? Or maybe just want to have some fun playing a little basketball? Then the place you want to be is at the Ross Ford gym on Tuesdays after school, when Terry Luft hosts a Junior Basketball Camp for girls and boys in Grades 4 and 5. "I started helping Mary Trenholm four or five years ago," says Terry, "and it was a lot of fun. This particular program covers all the basic skills," says Terry. "There are lots of little fun ways to learn and we're incorporating them into the camp." Terry played basketball in high school and in a men's league as well as for the Red Deer College team. He is now coaching the Didsbury High School Basketball Team, and says that "sometimes early development makes a difference to the quality of teams in future years, and gives the kids a vote of confidence in their abilities." Camp registration is on Tuesday, October 24 at 6:30 p.m., and some pre-registrations have already been taken. "It's really neat because it involves two schools," says Terry. "Grades 4 from Ross Ford and Grades 5 from Westglen." Registration is just $15, which covers nine sessions once a week on Tuesdays from 3:30 to 5:00 p.m. "If someone's looking for a fun event to participate in, it's this basketball camp," Terry says proudly. "There's probably a dozen kids planning to attend now, and there's still lots of interest out there," Terry says. Terry will be running the camp with help from some parents. "I appreciate all the help in coaching I've had over the years," he says, "and I want to say thanks for all the extra effort others have put out, by providing some good development for these kids." For more information, give Terry a call at 335-4449.

At the Western Hog Exchange (WHE), our mission is to maximize returns for Alberta's hog producers.

A random selection of Alberta hog producers were recently polled for their feedback. Results indicate that there are a number of misconceptions about the role of the WHE. We want to clear the air.

Our primary role is to sell hogs. We negotiate pricing on a daily basis with a variety of processors to find you the most suitable buyer. As a non-profit organization, we provide our marketing services at cost so that we can maximize your returns.

Searching to find you the best possible hog prices isn't all we do. We also offer a variety of valuable services to make your life a little easier and more productive. With your support, we are willing to expand our list of services to include any that you may require.

The services we currently offer include: guaranteed payment, access to five assembly yards, producer settlement inquiries, a comprehensive forward price contracting program, an in-transit insurance program, producer statistics and producer achievement recognition.

The hog industry is dynamic, complex and in a constant state of evolution. Teamwork between the producers and the WHE is essential to ensure a vital and sustainable industry. A series of pork producer meetings will be scheduled for November.

Watch your mail for survey results and producer meeting details! Visit our website at www.westernhogexchange.com or call 780-474-8292 for dates and locations.

October 2000 Water Supply Forecast for Alberta

In September, precipitation was variable throughout the province. Precipitation was normal to above-normal in the southern foothills during September, but due to the very dry conditions, insignificant runoff was observed. Since the beginning of April, southern Alberta has received much-below-normal precipitation. Current predictions from National Oceanographic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) and Environment Canada indicate a continuation of below-normal precipitation in southern Alberta this fall (October and November).

Water storage as of October 1, in the major irrigation and hydroelectric reservoirs in the Bow, Red Deer and North Saskatchewan River basins is normal for this time of the season. However, the storage conditions in Lake Minnewanka, Spray, Travers and Upper Kananaskis Reservoirs are below-normal. In the Oldman River basin, reservoirs are below-normal except for Kehoe Lake, which is normal.

Natural runoff volumes for the May to September 2000 period were much-below-average in the Milk, Oldman, St. Mary, Belly, Waterton, Highwood and Elbow Rivers, and below-average to much-below-average in the Bow, Red Deer and North Saskatchewan River basins.

This report will be the last report of the Water Supply Outlook for the water year 1999-2000.

Wendy's Choice is Didsbury's choice for kids clothes

By Nicole Smith

A new business in Didsbury is offering a product that the community hasn't seen for quite some time.

Wendy's Choice is a new children's clothing store which opened last Monday in Didsbury.

Owner Wendy Leibel says that she was looking to start up her own business and noticed that there were no stores in town selling children's clothing.

With this in mind, she did some research and is now proud to offer high quality children's clothing to Leibel invites all Didsburians to come down and check out her new venture.

CLOTHING COLLECTION
Wendy's Choice owner, Wendy Leibel, proudly displays the great selection of children's clothing in her new shop.

Didsburians.

Leibel is catering to children aged 6 months to 10 years old and offers parents clothing made by such popular brands as Osh Kosh, Holly-wood, Powerline and Timmy Tom Tom.

Leibel says that all her merchandise is Canadian-made and is planning to keep it that way in the future.

In addition to the fun and fashionable boys and girls clothing she is selling, Leibel also has bedding, baby gift sets and toys to offer her customers.

Leibel says that she came into the industry a little late to order a lot of winter clothing, like boots and jackets, and that she's already picking her spring and summer merchandise for next year.

She has set up a comment and suggestion box within her store, which is located next to Didsbury Appliance and For Sight Vision Centre, and hopes that her customers will use it.

Leibel invites all Didsburians to check out her wonderfully decorated shop with her great selection of children's clothing.

Wendy's Choice is open from Mondays to Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Flushing bar helps farmers save wildlife, says DUC

Device frightens nesting hens to safety.

Hay farmer Odean Trautman of New Norway has been giving nesting birds the scare for a couple of years now.

And the people at Ducks Unlimited Canada (DUC) couldn't be happier!

While a lot of Alberta farmers cut hay, only a few cut hay and save ducks at the same time.

But that's likely to change now that a growing number of farmers have field experience with a flushing bar, a novel duck-saving device developed by the Camrose office of DUC.

"The flushing bar is a very simple apparatus and it really works to scare birds off their nests," says Trautman.

He accepted Duck's Unlimited's offer to install a flushing bar on his tractor two years ago.

Trautman, who hays some 350 acres a year, simply slides the aluminum bar into position on a grill guard when he takes his first cut of hay.

Steel chains, half-a-meter apart, hang from the bar.

As the tractor moves through the hayfield, the chains rustle the grass, flushing birds and other animals out of harm's way. The bar fold up for easy transport through gates and is easily removed when haying is complete.

"The people with Ducks Unlimited called me with the idea and it seemed like a good project to undertake.

It just seems logical to try and protect wildlife," says Trautman.

Project takes off

"Flushing bars are being used on about 105 farms in central Alberta and we're now expanding the program into the north-east parkland region.

This gives farmers around Bonnyville, St. Paul, and Wainwright a chance to get involved," says DUC agrologist Barry Bishop. He's been with the project since it began with field studies in 1994 and 1995.

Aware that versions of the flushing bar had been in use since the 1930s, DUC studied their impact on saving the lives of nesting hens in hayfields located in areas associated with high densities of wetlands.

Those studies "showed that 48 per cent of hens in hayfields were killed by cutting equipment when flushing bars weren't used," notes Bishop. With a flushing bar, 100 per cent of hens were saved.

In keeping with its mandate to work with landowners, DUC surveyed 200 producers in areas of central Alberta where producers routinely take two cuts of hay.

"We asked a range of questions, described the flushing bar and asked if they'd use it. Eighty-two per cent said they would if it was easy to use," says Bishop.

Lighter and easier to transport than its predecessors, today's flushing bar "is one of those pragmatic solutions that DU comes up with. It works for wildlife and it works for farmers," Bishop adds.

Alvin Metzker agrees.

"I haven't hit a duck since we started using the flushing bar a few years ago," says Metzker, who farms near Gwynne.

This year, the bar also flushed a fawn from his tractor's path.

As an agency committed to helping conserve wetland habitat for waterfowl, Ducks Unlimited is especially interested in the benefits that accrue to waterfowl populations when a flushing bar is used.

"But we realize the flushing bar also saves a range of other species that also have time to flee when the chains rattle through the hay," says Bishop.

DUC research shows 10 species, ranging from deer to prairie songbirds, are saved by using a flushing bar in central Alberta.

News of its value in preventing the deaths of larger animals has brought calls for more information from forage producers in the U.S. and South Africa, as well as from other parts of Canada.

"There's no question this tool has a broad application in wildlife management," says Bishop, who hopes flushing bars will eventually be installed on more than 350 tractors in the aspen parkland region of central Alberta.

That region is a high-priority area for North American Waterfowl Management Plan conservation programs delivered by Ducks Unlimited Canada.

The cost of the flushing bar, $550 with installation, is covered by DUC if the producer's hayland is in close proximity to wetland habitat.

If a producer's land does not qualify based on wetland habitat, instructions on how to build a flushing bar can be accessed through DUC.

For more information, contact the DUC office closest to you, or phone Lyle Hauser (Camrose) at (403) 608-0520 or Clarence Makowicki (St. Paul) at (403) 645-2343.

Both are contractors who deliver the flushing bar program for DUC.

Canadian attitudes toward trucking safety on highways

Canadians for Responsible and Safe Highways (CRASH) released the results of an Angus Reid poll on trucking safety today.

CRASH commissioned the poll in order to assess Canadians' attitudes towards safety on highways.

A total of 1,501 interviews were conducted by telephone, between September 8 and September 15, 2000, among a representative cross-section of Canadian adults, 18 years of age or older.

Results were weighted by age, gender and region to accurately reflect the Canadian population.

The results of this survey are said to be accurate to within $\pm 2.5\%$, 19 times out of 20. Please note that the margin of error will be larger within regions and for other sub-groupings of the population.

Bob Evans, CRASH Executive Director, said today, "Canadians are strongly opposed to allowing truck drivers to drive up to an 84 hour work week, as proposed by federal and provincial government officials. This should be a wake up call to politicians who are the ones accountable to voters."

The results of the Angus Reid poll also show most Canadians are also strongly opposed to allowing longer double and triple trailer trucks that have recently been proposed as a way to reduce the impact of fuel prices on the trucking industry.

Following are survey highlights:

- Four out of five Canadians (80%) felt that roads have become more dangerous as a result of the increase in the number of tractor-trailer trucks.

- Two-thirds of Canadians (67%) strongly opposed allowing trucks with two 53 foot trailers.

Together with 20% somewhat opposed, 86 per cent of Canadians overall were opposed.

- Canadians were even more solidly opposed to allowing trucks with three trailers (93% overall, 82% strongly, 12% somewhat).

- Canadians felt that allowing truck drivers to drive 14 hours in a single shift and for 84 hours in a week would undermine road safety by increasing the public's risk of encountering large trucks driven by over-tired drivers. (83% overall, 68% strongly, 16% somewhat)

- Canadians favored the proposed U.S. weekly limit of 60 hours driving per week for truck drivers rather than the proposed Canadian limit of 84 hours (84% overall, 63% strongly, 21% somewhat).

- Canadians favoured a rule requiring that all big trucks be equipped with electronic devices (black boxes) to record actual driving hours (78% overall, 50% strongly, 28% somewhat)

These issues tended to cut across most demographic categories as Canadians, regardless of gender, education and income share similar views about trucking safety on Canada's highways.

Potpourri

Harvest is virtually complete with the exception of northern Alberta and some scattered areas in northwest Saskatchewan.

With good weather, the remaining three per cent of harvest could be complete by the end of the week.

Export hay market good news for ducks in Alberta

If all goes according to plan, the three-year expansion project, launched late last year, will foster more timothy production in central Alberta. DU and Transfeeder Inc., as well as a number of new timothy hay farmers, all expect to reap the rewards, says Barry Bishop, an agrologist with DU.

The project differs from traditional DU projects because it promotes "production changes without any change in who controls the land," Bishop adds.

In this case, it's believed the conversion of annual cropland to perennial cover, combined with low disturbance during the nesting season and late cut dates (after July 25), will work to the advantage of waterfowl and other wildlife.

Increased perennial ground cover is a key focus of DU's work in the aspen parkland region of central Alberta, where natural habitat is on the decline, says Bishop. "We know waterfowl and wildlife benefits can occur within an agricultural production system and we believe timothy hay production is an especially good fit with our goals for habitat conservation in this part of Alberta."

Transfeeder Inc., the nation's largest timothy hay exporter, is involved in the project because the company wants to expand its producer base, notes Barry Schmitt of Transfeeder.

By cost sharing with DU a full-time forage agrologist to help new producers hone the crop management skill needed to earn export market premiums, Transfeeder hopes to help new timothy growers avoid some of the mistakes that plague first-time growers.

In addition to potential returns of more than $300 an acre, timothy "diversifies a farmer's income and varies the cash flow because most of their costs come at harvest, they don't come up front with sprays and cultivation," Schmitt says.

While DU hopes the project could generate up to 25,000 new acres, "we think 5,000 to 10,000 acres would make this a successful endeavor," says Schmitt.

"Transfeeder would rather have new timothy growers enter the market cautiously and stay than jump in without taking the time to learn what they can do to meet export standards," notes Greg Smith, the project's forage specialist.

He started contacting central Alberta farmers in January to discuss the idea and offer his services.

While it's too early to say how many new acres of timothy will be seeded in 1999, Smith predicts some first-time growers will enter the market with 80 to 100 acres.

In addition to the extension portion of the project, DU will conduct field research to learn more about how timothy hay production impacts waterfowl and songbirds. "We believe this production system will be beneficial, but we need to make sure that's the case," says Bishop.

For more information on how Greg Smith can help farmers convert cropland to timothy hay, contact Smith at (403) 391-2510.

$10 Possession-only licence extended to December 31

A press release from the federal government

The Honourable Anne McLellan, Minister of Justice and Attorney General for Canada, today announced that the fee for a firearms possession-only licence (POL) will remain $10 until December 31, 2000.

"The combination of the reduction in fees, simplified forms and our outreach program has been very successful in encouraging Canadians to obtain gun licences. There are now more than 1.3 million Canadians in compliance with the licensing provision and applications are being submitted in record numbers. In fact, more than 126,000 applications came in last week. With the deadline only 10 weeks away we want to make it as easy as possible for Canadians to comply and this is why we are keeping the fee at $10 until the end of the year," said Minister McLellan.

The fee for the POL was reduced from $45 to $10 last June and was scheduled to rise to $60 on October 15, 2000.

At a recent forum of provincial police associations representing both rank and file and chiefs of police, it was strongly recommended that the government extend the reduced fee for the POL until the end of the year.

The government has responded to this request by announcing that the fee will remain $10 until December 31, 2000. As previously announced, those who paid $45 are receiving an automatic refund.

Firearm owners who plan to get the POL should apply immediately because as of January 1, 2001, POLs will not be available to new applicants.

New applicants will only have the option of obtaining a possession and acquisition licence after that date. However, anyone who has a POL by the end of this year will be able to renew it every five years.

"Without a licence, an individual will not be in legal possession of firearms and will not be able to purchase ammunition. We do not wish to see anyone inconvenienced and thus we are encouraging people to take action immediately," said Minister McLellan.

Firearm owners will be able to get assistance in filling out the form from licence assistance teams until the end of November in a number of locations.

About 100 teams are in place across Canada to assist with the application and take the applicant's photo for their licence. Times and locations are available at www.cfc.gc.ca or by calling 1-800-731-4000.

Statistics and examples show that the firearms program is already paying dividends in terms of public safety by keeping firearms out of the hands of people who should not have them.

More than 2,000 licences have been revoked or refused since December 1, 1998 by public safety authorities.
